

The background is a dark, reddish-brown abstract composition. It features a complex network of thin white lines connecting small dots, creating a web-like or molecular structure. Overlaid on this are several translucent, 3D wireframe cubes and rectangular frames, some of which are tilted or rotated, giving a sense of depth and movement. The overall aesthetic is futuristic and technological.

Introduction

New Loops presents House and Techno Chords – a collection of analogue style chord loops for electronic dance music. These chord loops have been recorded to provide quick inspiration and are ready to drop straight into any arrangement. Each one is full of character, from gritty and noisy, to bright and wide.

Each audio loop is 4-bars long, 44.1kHz, 120 bpm with the key in the file name. We have also included the loops as REX2 format for more flexibility. You can also use these chord samples in your sampler of choice giving you many ways to use them.

These House and Techno chords will also be useful for many sub genres including, deep house and techno, lo-fi house, minimal, dub techno, tech house, and much more.

Installation

5

Installing this sound pack is easy. Simply download the zip file and unpack. You can then move the entire folder to your preferred place on your hard disk.

Please keep a backup copy of your sound pack.

Please note: These audio files are in wav format and are available to use in any audio software and hardware that supports the standard wav format. The included REX2 format needs compatible software for playback.
